

LOCAL ARTIST EXHIBIT - COLORFUL, VIBRANT, EXCITING AT NORWALK PUBLIC LIBRARY

The display cases at The Norwalk Public Library are filled with the works of local artist Jo-Ann T. Claybourne for the month of February. Come see a remarkable, vibrant exhibit by a gifted artist.

Jo-Ann T. Claybourne resides in Norwalk Connecticut. Gifted with the vision to create exciting pieces of artwork using different media, she enjoys exploring her creativity to its fullest and each new piece shows her enhanced technique; using feathers, fabric, wood, dried flowers...

The combination of vibrant colors and mixed media gives each piece of artwork a life of its own. Her commitment to explore her heritage has won her not only regional acclaim but also the attention of national collectors.

She started drawing at age 5, and now teaches after school art within Fairfield County, CT as well as being an art instructor in senior centers. She attended the School of Visual Arts in Manhattan, NY where she expanded her experience in Sketching, Drawing, Painting and Mixed Media.

Jo-Ann T. Claybourne expresses what the word freedom means to her: "The word that expresses my passion for my art, freedom of expression: of movement; of life. My art is a reflection of that passion and of creativity in technique. My desire is to experiment with materials and a flow of movement, which adds to the visual excitement. Creating art is my passion, my love, and my freedom "

The Norwalk Public Library is located at 1 Belden Avenue, Norwalk, CT. Corner of Belden Avenue and Mott Avenue, 203-899-2780.
